

Sensory Processing Disorder - what's it all about?

Sensory Processing Disorder or SPD is a neurological disorder in which the sensory information that the individual perceives results in abnormal responses.

Sensory information goes into the brain but does not get organised into appropriate responses.

Those with SPD perceive and/or respond to sensory information differently than most others.

To know more about this topic, visit our blog.

<https://www.sensationalkids.co.uk/sensory-processing-disorder-whats-it-all-about/>