UMCA Saturdays is Here to Stay

On Saturday, November 11th, we had a blast at UMCA Saturdays. Our little ones had a fantastic time creating sensory bags and exploring our sensory stations. Meanwhile, parents received valuable information and sensory toys from the amazing Dr. Beatrice Hector (Dr. Bea), owner of Sensory Street Pediatric Occupational Therapy (SSPOT). UMCA meets every second Saturday of the month (10am-12pm) at Bethany Baptist Church, 460 Marcus Garvey Blvd, Brooklyn, NY 11216.

Uniquely Me Creative Arts (UMCA)

MISSION

UMCA's mission is to improve sensory processing disorder for special needs children through sensory-focused creative arts activities while their families engage in family chats led by experts in the field.

UMCA envisions a world where every special needs child finds their unique creative voice and live an inclusive life while their families share a journey of love and empowerment.
